The information contained on the following web pages is from the Chatham County Purchasing and Contracting Division, and is considered reliable. Solicitations are subject to change and withdrawal without notice; therefore, it is the responsibility of the vendor to verify reliability on an individual basis based on specific needs. The County assumes no responsibility, and extends no guarantees for discontinued solicitations. Trademarked names are used in an editorial context with no intent of trademark infringement.

Vendors are responsible for maintaining their information and keeping the information up to date and factual. The County assumes no responsibility for the maintenance of the Vendor information.

The County will attempt to conduct an annual audit of Vendor files and purge those Vendors who have shown no website activity within two (2) year period.

The County will make an attempt to notify Vendors of solicitations being released in a commodity. However, the Vendor is responsible for visiting the site to view the County's current solicitations available.

Before submitting a response, it is the Vendor's responsibility to visit the site regularly to verify if the County has posted Addenda for the solicitation. The County will make an attempt to notify all known vendors who registered a receipt of the solicitation with the County and who are on the respective solicitation's invitation list of addenda issued.

The ending number of the solicitation represents the responsible Buyer or Contract Administrator for that particular solicitation.
