Hurricane Matthew Storm Debris & Halloween Safety

SAVANNAH, GA (October 28, 2016) - As Chatham County contractors continue debris removal associated with Hurricane Matthew, the County would like to remind residents to exercise extreme caution near debris piles this Halloween weekend. Debris piles on the public right-of-way are a safety hazard for pedestrians and trick-or-treaters. These piles may obstruct sight-lines for motor vehicles traveling along the roadways and furthermore, may contain sharp objects such as broken limbs and woody debris, or harbor snakes and pests. Please do not allow children to play on or around debris piles and avoid areas with large quantities of debris piled for collection. The County and its contractors are working as quickly as possible to collect debris and the County urges all residents to make personal safety a top priority as our community continues its recovery from Hurricane.
