Otter Spotter Day in Chatham County

SAVANNAH, GA (May 3, 2016) – Yesterday Chatham County celebrated Otter Spotter Day. Otter Spotter Day was created 5 years ago by Joshua Collingsworth Memorial Foundation to energize drowning prevention and water safety efforts across the country and the world. It is a fun and simple way to get community members involved in spreading the message of water safety within their own local areas on the same day. Drowning is the leading cause of accidental death among children ages 1-4 and the second leading cause of accidental death among 1-14 year olds. Otter Spotter Day helps to engage partners to promote water safety.
